About WebAble

The story of WebAble starts in one of the founder's houses, in a little corner office in Lalmatia back in 2013. Long before the idea took shape of a company, WebAble was simply a conversation between three bright young individuals who shared one common vision - transform the digital communication space for brands. We have come a long way since, as we work with some of the best brands in Bangladesh out of a bright & happy office at the heart of Gulshan today.

We started out by working very closely with a handful of private clients, internalizing their projects and bringing them alive on the digital space. Among the first few projects, we were able to raise sponsorships for the education of 200+ underprivileged children, followed by selling out 3800 laptops for DELL solely online! This set the course for WebAble to work on impactful projects that contributed to the bottomline meaningfully.

Seven years into the journey of creating impactful communication, we have worked with many amazing clients across numerous industries. Some projects have been brave, some were quirky, some were even critical for the community - And we take immense pride in them all!

Tonality

WebAble Digital has a friendly, energetic & reliable tone across all it's communication. This reflects on the company's online/offline communication with all stakeholders including the clients & the employees.

We do not believe in over-promising or setting unattainable expectations. We will tell you things exactly as it is, and work on realistic solutions together. We can be unconventional in our own ways too, but with discipline and a sense of direction. We are unconventionally realistic, and realistically unconventional - Like that friend you can call up at 3 AM for an emergency and expect to show up to the rescue - No seriously, that has happened!

Diversity

Creative field attracts a wide diversity of talents. We attract everyone from suave engineers to ruthless business developers. This patterns can be traced back to our co-founders themselves. On one end the spectrum there are the smart and ambitious, while on the other end there are the calm and calculated.

To address this diversity, and to highlight our underlying passion for digital marketing, we came up with this concept to incorporate somewhat awkwardly large spectacles in our logo. All of the Directors at WebAble happen to be spectacle clad rebels riding the digital revolution.

The Logo

Ambition

As the rebel of the digital industry, everyone in our team is an underdog trying to prove a point. This is signified in the stark contrast in our logo's colors.

Geek Within

Our logo represents a character of passion and great diligence, and of course, the geek within. The glasses take the shape of the letter W, while a tiny gap between the pair of glasses take shape of the letter A. Hence, symbolizing "WA", representing the company's initials. The wordmark uses Museo 700 because it closely resembles the symbol's shape and appearance.

Conversation Starter

We love people with a wild imagination and it's okay if you did not get our concept right away. We intentionally left it open for the 'Oh I see that!' moments. The logo should make one squint to look for something that one might find in their own interpretation of the symbol. Any 'kinky' interpretation gets a cheeky smile and nod.

Color Palettes

Our primary colour palette contains two colours that pull each other in opposite direction creating a fine balance. This tug of war between the primary palette stretches the brand in sync with WebAble's energy & ambition.

This palette is followed by a burst of colours in our secondary brand colours - An absolute mood lifter. Our secondary palette is happy and inviting; open to a world of new possibilities.

Our secondary palette of brand colours range from blue to purple, like a burst of life on a Friday morning! The palette also reflects the diversity and inclusiveness in WebAble. From the tech geek to the videographers, writers to the singers, planners to the executioners, we have them all under one roof. The colours also stand for our service pillars which range from social media marketing to product development fuctions, all in house.

Grid System

Our guidelines root from a grid system to help define and provide guidelines for each of our brand elements. The grid helps us maintain consistency with our layout, ensuring beautiful, compatible designs – whether it be stationary, posters, or marketing materials.

Logotype Grid

The logotype grid can be placed either in the top or bottom right corner for most materials. It can be placed in the mid-center or bottom center for covers.

Imagery Grid

The imagery grid can be used in multiple ways as long as the imagery is kept within a box shape keeping bleed vs. margins, symmetry vs. asymmetry, and image sizes/percentages in different formats into consideration.
